

VAN HOORBEKE FREE AFTER LONG TRIAL

GREEN BAY MAN IS FOUND NOT GUILTY.

Jury at Anderson, Ind., Decide That He Did Not Murder His Wife For Her Money—He Will Not Return to Wisconsin—Other State Special Dispatches.

Green Bay, Wis., March 19.—[Special]—Word came from Anderson, Ind., this morning, that after staying out all night, the jury at that place, came in this morning with a verdict in the Barney Van Hoorbeke wife murder case.

It was as follows: "We, the Jury, find the defendant not guilty."

It was thought that the state had made an exceptionally strong case and that the verdict might have been different had the defendant not volunteered to go on the stand himself. He will remain there and work his farm instead of returning to Green Bay. Miss Pritz has been released. The trial will cost him $2,000 and the county $15,000.

Van Hoorbeke was a prominent Green Bay man, and was accused of murdering his wife at Anderson, Ind., to get her money.

WHITE CAPS WORK AT PALMYRA.

They Enforce Reform for Two Months on a Young Drunkard.

Palmyra, Wis., March 19.—Two months ago, Palmyra "white caps," numbering about a score, seized in the evening, a Palmyra youth who was given to strong drink, and when under its influence to abusing his invalid mother. They took him to a village cemetery, bound him, placed a rope around his neck and by repeated strapping him up with longer and longer and longer intervals of strangling and threats of death, extorted from him a promise to abstain from liquor, to be good to his mother and remain home evenings until St. Patrick's day. He kept his promise faithfully, but relapsed at the expiration of the period.

Metzler, pastor of the German Catholic church of the Sacred Heart of this city. THEY TELL OF THE MURDER.

Jackson and Walling Prepare Statements Admitting Their Guilt.

Frankfort, Ky., March 19.—Scott Jackson and Alonzo Walling, condemned to die Saturday for the murder of Pearl Bryan, have made a last appeal to Gov. Bradley, in the hope of obtaining a commutation of sentence. They have made a full confession of the murder, implicating Dr. George B. Wagner, a well-known physician of Bellevue, Ky., who is now in an insane asylum at Lexington.

Jackson's confession covers seven pages of legal cap, while Walling's covers three. Each story corroborates the other. In substance the confessions narrate the history of the meeting of Jackson and Walling, and of the procuring of the services of Dr. Wagner in behalf of Pearl Bryan. Pearl Bryan was written to go to Cincinnati, which she did.

She was met and taken to the house of Dr. Wagner. They arranged to go over to see her together on Friday, and Dr. Wagner informed them that she was not doing well, and expressed much concern about her condition. They returned on Friday night, and Jackson was sent to the drug store to get a prescription consisting of a white substance, which he gave her in a big dose.

He became much alarmed, and said he believed she was going to die, and that she did die. Dr. Wagner procured a hack, which they thought was his own, and all three got into the hack and drove to Fort Thomas. The hack was stopped on an incline. All got out, and Jackson held the dead body of Pearl Bryan in his lap while Dr. Wagner cut her head off. He let the body fall, and it rolled down a little slope. Dr. Wagner then took the head and wrapped it in the girl's cloak, and placed it in her satchel. They were then all driven to the bridge crossing to Cincinnati, and got out and walked. Here they separated. Dr. Wagner afterward became insane.

Jackson and Walling claim they do not know where Pearl Bryan's head was placed or what became of it. Although Walling is the least guilty in the affair, it is not believed that the governor will interfere, and both will hang.

Newport, Ky., March 19.—The rain, which interrupted the work on the scaffold Wednesday ceased Thursday morning, and the structure upon which Jackson and Walling will drop to their death Saturday was completed shortly after noon. A Cincinnati paper, in an extra edition, announced that the lot in which the scaffold stands would be thrown open to the public at 2 o'clock. At that hour it is estimated that 2,500 people crowded Southgate and York streets anxious to get a look at the affair.

The scaffold is provided with a double trap and Jackson and Walling will drop into space at the same instant. The young men appear wholly unmoved. The prisoners chat pleasantly and even jocularly of their approaching end. Neither exhibits the least nervousness or feeling except when in conversation with his mother. Said Jackson: "I wouldn't care a thing about it were it not for my mother and sister. I hate to see them suffer, but as for myself—well, we only die once, and one time is about as good as another. I have not yet decided whether or not I would make any statement from the scaffold. My confession is intended for my mother alone. I have asked her not to make it public."

Walling said he was engaged in writing his confession and said he did not care to be disturbed.

WAGNER DENIES THE CHARGE.

Protests Innocence of Any Connection with Pearl Bryan's Murder.

Lexington, Ky., March 19.—Dr. Geo. B. Wagner, the Bellevue physician who is implicated in the murder of Pearl Bryan by the confession of Jackson and Walling, is in the Lexington lunatic asylum, where he was sent a few weeks after the tragedy, a raving maniac. He has so far recovered that Superintendent Scott thinks he will be able to soon return home. When told that Jackson and Walling had said he assisted them in their crime he became somewhat excited, and exclaimed:

"It's a black lie. I ought not to say that, as I was a minister of the gospel for eight years, but it is a lie, and I know of no better word to express my meaning. I never knew Jackson or Walling, nor did I ever hear of Pearl Bryan until after the tragedy. The statement that the unfortunate girl was taken to my residence is absolutely untrue, so far as I know, as I was not at home when the tragedy occurred or when the body was found. It was at the residence of my father-in-law, William Herndon, in Jessamine County, and it was there that I first heard of the killing. I returned to Bellevue shortly after the tragedy, a very sick man. My daughters never spoke to me of Pearl Bryan, and I do not believe she was ever in my house."

J. R. HURLEY of Milwaukee, was in town today, representing the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern road.

MANY ARE HOMELESS BECAUSE OF FLOODS

MISSISSIPPI RIVER STILL UN-CONTROLLED.

Rain Continues at Memphis—Reported Drowning of Five Persons—Levees in Arkansas in Danger—Ice Gorge Menaces Des Moines—Consternation Near Vicksburg.

Memphis, Tenn., March 19.—To what point will the river rise here and what sort of havoc impends? These are questions in which the public is vitally concerned. There is certainly no present indication of a pause in the tide, which is rising at the rate of half an inch in twenty-four hours.

At a low estimate there are now in Memphis between 2,000 and 3,000 refugees from overflowed regions of Arkansas and islands north and south, and these are being provided for as liberally as conditions will permit.

The reported drowning of five persons from a bridge is confirmed. The family consisted of mother and four children, the eldest 16 years and youngest 8 months. They were walking across Lloyd's bridge on the Memphis and Kansas Railroad, toward Marion, and fell through.

Thus far there have been no casualties reported, but hundreds of refugees been brought to this city, 140 coming in this evening on the Iron Mountain train.

There has been a break in the levee, near Caruthersville. The levee board declares the levee was cut, but this is difficult to understand in view of the close guard maintained. The extent of the break is unknown.

Capt. Fitch, United States engineer, was advised from Washington today that the war department had placed $10,000 to his credit to be used in maintaining levees.

DES MOINES MENACED.

Enormous Dam Formed at Fort Dodge—May Inundate the Lowlands.

Des Moines, Iowa, March 19.—Danger to Des Moines and all the property along the river above the city lurks in an ice gorge ten feet high, which formed Wednesday night in the Des Moines river at Fort Dodge. The water has backed up on the city and flooded the low lands. The people at Boone and Moingona and other smaller towns along the river are interested in the report, for their property may be endangered.

Alarm at Sioux City.

Sioux City, Iowa, March 19.—Sioux City was up late last night, fearing a flood on the Floyd river bottoms. About 8 o'clock a gorge formed at the mouth of the stream, already bank full. An ineffectual attempt was made to float the ice out and a force of 200 men was sent to blow it up with dynamite. The river bottom is the most thickly populated part of town and thousands of families expected to be driven from their homes. The same stream did hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of damage and drowned many people in a freshet five years ago. After a dozen ineffectual attempts the gorge was blown out with a monster charge of dynamite at 11 o'clock.

Reports from Le Mars, twenty miles above Sioux City, are that many bridges have gone out near there. The Big Sioux is said to have destroyed a bridge above here. It is held in check by several dams, but may take them out at any time. The Jim and Vermillion rivers in South Dakota are rising rapidly.

Consternation at Vicksburg.

Vicksburg, Miss., March 19.—News of the crevasse at Glendale, Coahoma county, Mississippi, nearly opposite Helena, Ark., was received here Thursday. Glendale is near the apex of the Yazoo-Mississippi delta, and a break that high up is regarded as an especially grave disaster. The water from this crevasse will find its way into Yazoo river by the route of the Coldwater and Tallahatchie rivers, ravaging the rich country of that section.

Levees in Ban Condition.

Helena, Ark., March 19.—The levees from Helena as far down as Relief, Ark., are found to be in a condition that cannot possibly last under the prevalent conditions. From Helena as far as Westover there is a levee which has done service since 1882. The last break occurred in March, 1886. The government has expended $225,000 to safeguard over 1,000,000 acres of the richest land in the world.

Heavy Rain in Illinois.

Kinmundy, Ill., March 19.—For forty-eight hours rain has continued to fall. Basements are full, streets flooded, all streams overflowing, and wagon-bridges are washed out. All trains from one to three hours late. The Wabash river north of here is out of its banks, and it is feared the railroad bridge will be washed out again. It is the worst flood in twenty years.

To Make Peace Overtures.

Havana, March 19.—Emissaries of Gen. Weyler are said to be searching for Gen. Gomez, and others are on their way to the Cuban junta in New York to make peace overtures to the Cubans.

PICK UP THE SWORD AND LOAD UP GUNS

GREEK PEOPLE ARE PREPARED FOR WAR.

Popular Demand for Declaration of Hostilities Against Turkey—Grecian Vessel Sunk by an Austrian Gunboat Near Candia—Russians Pass the Dardanelles Without Question.

Athens, March 19.—Telegrams from the Macedonian frontier declare the situation as one of the utmost activity and of expectation of war at an early date. A telegram from Larissa reports that there have been various movements by the Turkish troops along the frontier. Two thousand of the Ellassona corps have occupied the plain between Domenico and Damassi. An entire army corps has been transferred from Monaste to Janinia.

In the boule Thursday M. Skouzes, the Greek minister of foreign affairs, announced that the foreign admirals had proclaimed a blockade of Crete to begin next Sunday morning at 8 o'clock. Under its terms no Greek vessel would be allowed to enter Cretan ports. The vessels of other nations must obtain permission from the admirals. The admirals expect that Greek ships in Cretan waters will receive an order from the Greek government to withdraw before the blockade commences under the penalty of being compelled to withdraw by force.

The official announcement of the blockade of Crete did not produce much of a display of feeling either in the boule or on the part of the public. The sinking of the Greek vessel by the Serbian, on the other hand, is denounced with indignation as a crime committed by a civilized state.

Great quantities of provisions and stores have been sent to Crete. It is believed that they will easily run the blockade, especially if the weather happens to be rough. There is no cessation in the military preparations. The government is buying all the horses it can procure in Hungary and elsewhere.

GREEK SHIP SUNK.

Austrian Gunboat Begins Hostilities in Cretan Waters.

Canea, Island of Crete, March 19.—The Austrian gunboat Zebnico has fired upon and sunk, near Candia, a Greek vessel loaded with provisions and munitions which were intended for the Greek forces in Crete. It appears that the Zebnico, while watching the Greek ship, was fired on by a party of insurgents. To this the Austrian warship replied by sinking the Greek craft and driving off the insurgents.

It is feared that when this news becomes generally known in Athens it will serve to greatly irritate the populace and may have influence in precipitating the crisis which the powers are striving in every way to avert.

Greece Prepared for the Worst.

London, March 19.—The Athens correspondent of the Daily Chronicle declares that Greece has set her back against the wall, and is prepared for the worst. The commencement of the blockade of Greek ports would be instantly the signal for hostilities on the frontier, not because of any decision of king or cabinet, but because of the resentment for the army.

The Chronicle correspondent, who is Mr. Henry Norman, says this opinion sums up the result of his visit to the frontier, and then adds: "The Greek fleet, which I visited yesterday and whose whereabouts are unknown to the foreign legations, is watching Turkish torpedo-boats off one of the northern islands. I should advise the German warship Kaiserin Augusta to avoid this fleet, which is eagerly awaiting her."

Popular opinion in Greece, says the Times correspondent at Athens, imperatively demands an early declaration of war with Turkey. The idea is that Europe would then be compelled to adopt a neutral attitude. It is argued that the Greek fleet could conquer the islands in the Aegean, including Samos, while the Greek army, assisted by insurgent bands, could rapidly overrun Macedonia.

To Back Up the Turk.

St. Petersburg, March 19.—Acting on the advice of the Russian ambassador at Constantinople, who had asked that the Russian fleets should be kept in readiness to re-enforce the Turkish fleet in the event of a Greek naval demonstration, the imperial government has ordered the Russian Black sea fleet to keep steam up for immediate action if demanded.

Scott to Be Given His Liberty.

Havana, March 19.—The Supreme Court has dismissed the case of Chas. Scott, the American who was arrested at Regla on the charge of having Cuban postage stamps in his possession.

Go Through the Dardanelles.

Constantinople, March 19.—Four torpedo destroyers have started to pass the Dardanelles.

Russians to Pass Dardanelles.

Constantinople, March 19.—The officials of the Russian embassy here have notified the Turkish government of the fact that a Russian transport having on board troops intended to form the contingent of Russia for the occupation of the Island of Crete, according to the program drawn up by the admirals will shortly pass through the Dardanelles. The embassies of the other powers have not raised any objections to this proceeding, although by treaty the straits are closed to the warships of England. Large numbers of Greek army reserve men and other volunteers are leaving for Athens.

THEY TALK AGAINST TREATY.

Senator Morgan Declares It the Work of Titled Aristocrats.

Washington, March 19.—Senator Morgan renewed his opposition to the arbitration treaty in an executive session of the Senate Thursday. More than once he made the point that it was the work of the titled aristocracy of Great Britain. "There is no danger of a misunderstanding of a serious nature between the people of this country and the common people of England," he said, and then stated that he ranked such leaders as Gladstone and Bright with the English commoners. But he contended that the interests of the British aristocrats were every way antagonistic to the interests of the great masses of the American people. He also advanced the argument that one congress could not by its action bind another, and said that on this account the treaty was a mere piece of buncombe.

"The right of declaring war," he said, "is given to congress, and it is implied that it is given to one congress as much as another. Hence even if we ratify the treaty it would not be binding on future sessions."

If, in other words, the two nations found sufficient provocation for going to war, they would proceed to hostilities regardless of treaties of peace. If, on the other hand, they found themselves disputing over a trivial matter, they naturally would resort to arbitration, and there would be no more difficulty in arranging a separate arbitration for each occasion in the future than there had been in the past.

FEAR THAT 100 PERISHED.

Evidences of a Terrible Sea Disaster Off the French Coast.

Brest, March 19.—Wreckage marked "Utrecht" was washed up along the coast for several days past. It is thought to have come from the Dutch steamship Utrecht, which, it is believed, has foundered. The steamship, bound from Rotterdam for Java, should have been near the island of Ushant, on March 4, when a terrible storm raged along the French coast, and she has not been reported since.

The Utrecht carried a number of Dutch officers, en route to Java, and other passengers, probably 100 all told. Wreckage belonging to a sailing vessel is also coming ashore. The vessel is thought to have stranded, though she may have foundered, all hands going down, after having been in collision with the Utrecht.

HE KILLED THREE WOMEN.

Kansas Farmer Commits Suicide After a Murderous Assault.

Wamego, Kas., March 19.—William Fees, a farmer living five miles west of here, blew out his brains Wednesday after a murderous assault in which he attempted to exterminate a whole family. Three of his victims will die, and a fourth is terribly wounded.

Fees' wife recently left him and returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Johnson.

After she had positively refused to return to him Fees went to the house, and, in a terrible rage, shot down his wife and her mother and his sister-in-law, Miss Johnson, and his wife's father. None of the three women can recover, and it is doubtful whether Mr. Johnson will live. Fees then returned to his home and killed himself.

River Rising at Omaha.

Omaha, Neb., March 19.—Immediately after the breaking of the Tekamah gorge the river began to rise rapidly. At midnight it was nine inches higher than in the morning. The channel both to the north and south is reported to be clear and the ice is moving without any tendency toward the formation of any more gorges.

Assembly Passes the Bill to the Third Reading, the Free Silver Men all Opposing it—Want a Uniform Fish and Game Law—Madison News and Gossip.

Madison Wis., March 19.—[Special] The bill making it possible for gold democrats of the state to have a place on the ticket at the next election went to third reading in the assembly this morning, after a short debate.

Mr. Jones, of Iowa County, made a short speech acknowledging the debt of the republican party to the gold democrats, and urged that the passage of the bill is due them. The silver democrats all voted against it. Messrs. Hill and Clawson were the only democrats in the house to vote for it, as did all the republicans.

The appointment of O. D. Raymond of Stevens Point as a member of the board of normal agents was confirmed.

A joint resolution requesting the Governor to appoint a special commission to try to secure uniform fish and game laws in the states of Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin also passed the senate.

The bill reducing the exemptions of earnings from execution from $66 to $40 a month received the approval of the assembly.

The senate adjourned at noon until Monday night, but the assembly, after trying to settle upon a session tomorrow, decided to hold an evening session today and then will adjourn until Monday evening.

Bills introduced by Rock county members were disposed of as follows:

Concurred in: No. 174, Mr. Whitehead—To change the title of the corresponding secretary of the State historical society.

To a third reading: No. 623, Mr. Whitehead—To amend the law relating to county courts.

Joint resolution, No. 34, Mr. Merriman—For a constitutional amendment relating to eligibility to vote.

CORBETT A GREAT SUFFERER.

Keeps to Bed Most of the Day—Ready to Fight Again.

San Francisco, Cal., March 19.—James J. Corbett remained in his rooms at the St. Nicholas hotel and spent most of the day lying down. He rose early and had a hearty breakfast served in his rooms, after he received the papers. He devoured every word printed about the fight.

Jim shows little outward marks of his encounter, but he is weak from the effects of the terrible heart blow, and says he has intermittent shooting pains in his left side. His physician, however, says he will suffer no permanent injury, although the shock to both nervous and physical systems has been severe.

Corbett was first annoyed, then amused at the report brought over the wires that he was dead. He said he was the liveliest corpse ever en route to a graveyard, and reiterated his ability and willingness to fight Fitzsimmons or any one else this afternoon, to-morrow or any day next week.

Program for Tariff Bill.

Washington, March 19.—The programme for the tariff bill in the house was agreed upon by the ways and means committee Thursday after a long and somewhat discordant meeting. The bill will be reported to the house today, debate will begin on Monday next and the final vote will be taken on Wednesday, March 31. In the meantime the house will be in session from 11 in the morning until an indefinite hour at night, with a recess for dinner, all the time to be consumed in debate on the bill.

Mosher, who was released from the United States penitentiary at Sioux Falls Wednesday, at the expiration of his sentence of five years for wrecking the Capital national bank at Lincoln, was arraigned in the United States District court, before Judge Munger, to plead to a second indictment, charging him with falsifying the accounts of the bank. He pleaded not guilty, and was released on $5,000 bail. The day for hearing has not been fixed.

Iowa Legislature.

Des Moines, Iowa, March 19.—The house devoted Thursday to the building and loan bill submitted by the committee. Three days were spent in its consideration, and, after all, the bill was defeated by a vote of 50 to 39. Lieut.-Gov. Parrott has appointed Senators Mitchell, Perrin and Harper on the joint committee to investigate the building and loan charges.

Cleveland Is in Princeton.

Princeton, N. J., March 19.—Ex-President Cleveland arrived here Thursday. He was met at the depot by his private carriage, which took him immediately to his new home. A slight rain made the three-mile drive a most dismal one. There was no demonstration on the part of the students, as his arrival was unexpected.

THE WEEK AT CENTER TOWN
Lamb Has Six Legs—Tobacco Is About Cleaned Up.

Center, March 19—Give us credit for all that is due—our five legged lamb mentioned in The Gazette has six feet. Hulver Hegard of Orford has cleaned up about all the 1896 tobacco in this township and leaves the growers in good shape to grow and handle the next crop. There will probably be an increase of fifty per cent in acreage in '97. Miss Herman and William Schroeder are at home, called here on account of the severe illness of their brother, F. C. Schroeder. At the present Mr. Schroeder is very low with but poor prospects of recovery.
Our creamery reports business the best it has been in several seasons at this time of the year, with the prospect of receiving the largest amount this summer that it has ever had. Hereafter, Frank Lowry, will carry a set of jack screws with him, when handling loads such as he has been doing of late. Mrs. Fred Paul was removed to Mendota last Wednesday morning for treatment. The annual moving time for tenants is at hand and the roads are full of them.
Some of our pork raisers are jubilant over the present prices, $3.65 and $3.70 being freely offered by Scottville and Orford buyers. Miss Ella Caldwell is reported much better after a severe attack of pneumonia. Fred Vankirk has been replenishing his stock for the spring trade and has at present a fine assortment of school shoes, etc., with prices right.

SOUTH CLINTON WILL CONTEST
The Matter Was Settled Up After It Had Been in Court.

South Clinton, March 19—Several of the parties interested in the Ole Oleson estate, visited Janesville last Tuesday. A contest of Mr. Oleson's will was begun a few weeks ago, but an amicable settlement is reported as agreed upon between the widow and the other heirs that will put a stop to further legal proceedings in the matter of the contest. Whooping cough, sore throat, bronchial troubles and other ailments have made it necessary for several families in this vicinity to make of their homes veritable hospitals. H.
I. Natesta visited Chicago last week.
A phenomenal exodus of our young ladies to K place last week. Four of them went to Beloit, but we predict their speedy return for "there's no place like home" and Beloit is no exception to this rule. Had they gone to Janesville it might have been otherwise. The city of Bergen is enjoying a little boom of its own. A new blacksmith shop is coming. Last Tuesday was somewhat of a moving day here.
H. K. Salberg moved his family and family to Beloit, Andrew Iverson to the Natesta farm and Ed Westby to the Wm. Seaver farm. Next week O.
O. Foss will move to Pierce's corner.
The rest of us expect to stay where we are.

THEY WANT MAHONEY MEDAL.

School People are Now Deep in Preliminary Contests.

The preliminary contests for the Mahoney medal are now being held, the first one occurring yesterday. The members of the Sophomore class spoke before the class in the contest for declamation. The successful contestants were Miss Imogene McDonald, Fred Holt, Levi Ross and Ray Owen.

In the contest for extemporaneous speaking in the Sophomore class the following were chosen: Miss Imogene McDonald, Fred Holt, Ray Owen and Philip Casford.

The Freshman class is a large one and it had to be divided into sections.
On the extemporaneous speaking the successful contestants were Allan
Lovejoy, Grace Tennant, Janet Sayre, Percy Munger and Victor Marquisse.
Those who were chosen to appear from the Freshman class before the school in the contest for declamation were Misses Cora Brown, Bessie Jackman and Nellie Rumrill and Joseph Fisher.

The contest before the school will probably take place some day next week. The public contest is set for Friday, April 9, at the High school.

WHY THE COLLEGE IS SHORT OF CASH

SHRINKAGE OF VALUES IS RE-SPONSIBLE.

There Has Been No Bad Management and No Waste of Money, But Hard Times Have Curtailed the Revenues
—Every Seat Sold For Tonight's Greek Play.

Beloit college is failing in financial support and the situation is viewed by some of its friends as bordering on a crisis. This has come, not by any bad management, lack of economy or loss of college funds, but the shrinkage of interest on investments and reduction of rents in Chicago and the unproductiveness of other real estate, together with the increased operating expenses of large new buildings, an annual deficiency of several thousand dollars has been caused.

This deficiency has been met thus far by gifts from trustees and other generous individuals, and by appropriations from the general funds of the college. The money, however, which could be appropriated for such a deficiency has become exhausted. It is well known that trust funds for special purposes cannot be used for anything else than the object for which they were given.

Two Alternatives Open.

The college is therefore compelled to face a serious proposition. There are only two ways of meeting this crisis. One is by closing Science hall and the new chapel and the library, thus cutting down the courses of study, and dismissing a number of the professors, which means fatal disaster to the college. The other is by increasing the general endowment $250,- 000, the interest of which would cover the present annual deficiency.

Undoubtedly this would have been secured before now but for the prevailing hard times. As it is, however, about $90,000 of this has already been pledged, but it is not available until the remaining $160,000 has been secured. But in these times it is well nigh impossible to raise large sums of money for public purposes, and it may require two or three years to complete the proposed endowment of $250,000.

Annual Shortage Must Be Met

Meanwhile the annual deficiency must be met or many departments of the college closed, and its whole future imperilled. In view of this emergency, President Eaton has determined to raise an emergency fund of $12,- 000 for three years, which will save the college until the $250,000 endowment fund becomes available.

It is proposed that $3,000 or $4,000 of this emergency fund be raised in Beloit, and for that purpose a meeting of business men was held. It is thought the fund can be secured when the friends of old Beloit understand the situation.

The sale of seats for the college
Greek play to night opened yesterday day with the largest sale ever known for a Greek play. Every seat in the theatre is taken.

Valuable Stock of Old Liquors.

The scarcity of pure, well-matured liquor ripened in wood is especially felt in cases of sickness. To physicians and nurses we especially recommend the following, which can be hardly equalled in the state. Grape brandy, in storage here for twenty years; Hennessy Cognac imported by W. Sillito twenty two years ago; De Keiper gin ten years old, in the original package; Ramsays Scotch whiskey twenty one years old, sixteen years in the Sillito stock; Tom ligia sixteen years old; O. F. C. Taylor sour mash whisky twenty-one years in this stock, Guckenhelm rye ten years in this stock, port that has laid here in original packages twelve years, and Muscatel sixteen years old. All these are absolutely pure. H. M. SHORR, 27 N.

THE FALL CAUSED HER DEATH.

Well Known Beloit Woman Meets with a Fatal Accident.

Mrs. O. B. Mitchell aged 70 years, died at Beloit, her death being the immediate result of a fall she sustained ten days ago. A week ago Monday she went into the house of Mrs. Davis who resides next door east to her home, to inquire after a little child, a great favorite of hers who had received a bad fall, and in coming down the stone steps she fell heavily and was rendered almost helpless, but succeeded in getting to her home unaided.

She suffered greatly until Saturday when she sank into a state of unconsciousness from which she never recovered. Mrs. Mitchell was formerly Mrs. L. A. Johnson. She was a member of the Baptist church.

NO LASTING GAIN.

The temporary prosperity that Nevada may enjoy from the presence of an army of "sports" will probably cost more than it is worth. Every attempt to make pugilism respectable will be defeated by the prize fighters and the criminal classes that flock about the prize ring.

Pugilism not only does not foster a love of fair play, but is always associated with unfairness and dishonesty. Because they have money at stake, the partisans of any pugilist are willing to see him win a contest by the most fraudulent methods he can practice. They are never above breaking into the ring to prevent the defeat of their favorite and the loss of their money, when they are not restrained by superior force. The contempt which every pugilist expresses for the character of his antagonists is usually well founded. Any pugilist who is a stranger in the community in which he is matched is regarded as morally defective on that account and fit to be swindled out of his victory by any means, especially if money is placed on the local favorite. In nearly every instance where prohibitive laws have been enacted against pugilism, it has been the result of growing brutality and dishonesty on the part of the part of the pugilists themselves. Fair play is not a plant of gutter growth and pugilism has deserved all it gets in the way of obloquy and restrictive legislation.

WORK FOR CONGRESS.

By its action upon the tariff and revenue measures the fifty-fifth congress will largely be judged. But not solely. The senate will probably again consider the arbitration treaty and may take action upon some form of bankruptcy legislation. That the consideration of the former measure will result in its ratification without such alterations as will endanger its acceptance by England and that it will be indicative that senseless jingoism is to give place to the dignity and moderation that once marked the deliberation of the senate, should be the prayer of every man who believes that "reason and peace, not passion and war," should control "the relations between two of the greatest nations of the world." For the passage of the latter measure thousands of citizens driven to the wall in the disasters of the past few years, are earnestly hoping.

DEMOCRATS AND MR. THOROUGHGOOD

The democratic proposition to have ex-Mayor Thoroughgood called out by petition and then to have the democratic city convention endorse him is now arousing protest from old line democrats. They concede that the democratic intention should properly be to make republicans all the trouble possible, but insist that the petition plan will make quite as much trouble for democrats as for republicans. The fact that the petitions will naturally be published as matters of news, leads cautious democrats to warn their brethren against going on record in black and white for destroying party lines.

Echoes of similar sort are heard among republicans although here the motive is different. The argument used is that Mr. Thoroughgood's chances before the republican city convention are good enough so that a declaration of his unwillingness to abide by the convention's decision is not justified.

The only difference between Lord Salisbury and his long line of predecessors is that he has bluntly spoken the sentiment they have always acted upon. He recently said that the safeguarding of the British empire demanded that its agents should forget religion, morals—all the conditions, indeed, that are considered essential to the welfare of civilized states.

Those more illiterate a man is the better citizen he makes, in the eyes of those who wish to control his vote.

CHICAGO MARKETS BY WIRE.

Chicago, March 19—[Special]—

Liverpool shows its dependent strength and advanced a penny today while our market opened only a shade higher and ruled rather tame during the first half of the session. The crowd is bearish and resent any bull movement. Their feeling was mainly for the July wheat which declined, while money was stationary. I want to amplify my position, which is this: That while I believe cash wheat in May and July will be in good demand and will be taken to substitute the deficiency in winter wheat which is reflected in a premium of twenty or twenty-five cents for winter above spring wheat, I would not buy either July or September wheat, because the crop is certainly going to be larger than this year, and if we can't buy the old crop it is needless to try the new crop. Wheat may sell higher for July than for any but then we must have war or crop scare and in that case May wheat will also advance. The case is like this: If you buy July there is a bare possibility of making three cents more than if you buy May. But if the crop outlook is good then July will be sold short, and is likely to sell very much below, as cash wheat will be in fairly good demand, no matter what the next crop is. May wheat does not depend on prospects but upon well established facts for its value, while July wheat depends entirely upon guess work. I feel bearish on the next crop and bullish on the present. I believe common sense will win. It took a long time for the pork to respond to the common sense view, which I urged with such persistence; but it has advanced one and one-half dollars, and will advance still more later on. I am perfectly willing to be wrong for a few days, in order to be right for two months, and feel perfectly sure that an advance in May wheat. The elevator people are trying to rig July above May so as to be able to keep control of the cash wheat but the thing to do is to buy May and order your broker to pay for it. Even corn is going higher. No one northern wheat of which there is three million here is one cent over May and ordinary No. 2 spring is beginning to lessen May price even before navigation opens. This is very unusual indeed. A very fair demand for spring wheat is reported in New York and here the market responded to it. We will have this demand right along now. ROBERT LINDBLOM.

ASK THOROUGHGOOD TO STATE HIS PLANS

FRIENDS WANT HIM TO DECLARE HIMSELF.

Democrats Admit That They Expect to Use Him to Confuse Their Opponents—Some Old Liners Are in Doubt About Their Course of Action.

The fact that democratic managers are trying to make a handle of John Thoroughgood's candidacy was revealed by a tangle among democrats this morning. Several of the regulars declared that they would fight tooth and nail against any such scheme as the democratic bosses had arranged. They are watching with great interest to see Mr. Thoroughgood's petition published as they say they mean to keep a list of names for future reference.

"I was told a month ago that the democrats intended to have Mr. Thoroughgood called out by petition," said a second ward democrat this morning, and I declared at once that I would not support him. I meant every word I said, and if the deal is put through, I intend to fight it. They may think such a campaign will split the republicans. They will find it will split the democrats a good deal worse. A 'citizens ticket' arranged by one party to hurt another, never can amount to much."

With such a mass of criminalities and recriminations in the air it has been impossible for republicans to remain in ignorance. A petition to put Mr. Thoroughgood's good name on the ticket was circulated this morning and received many signatures, but quite a number of republicans held back and refused to sign until Mr. Thoroughgood had published a declaration agreeing to abide by the decision of the republican city convention. Many demands have been made that Mr. Thoroughgood in justice to himself set forth his position—briefly and plainly—on this point.

DROP THE FIVE CENT SIGN

Street Car Bus Lines Take Down the Placards.

The street car buses have disposed of their "fare five cents" signs. According to the drivers these signs were misleading and they deemed it for their best interests to remove them.

"On several occasions I received telephone calls from sections of the city that were nearly a mile from the postoffice," remarked one of the drivers, "and after taking a half hour in making the trip, the passenger would read the sign and hand me a nickel. At that rate there was no money in the business so off came the sign."

BUILD COTTAGES AT THE PARK

Many Improvements To Be Made at Idlewild This Year.

Plans for five new cottages are now under way, the buildings to be erected at Idlewild Park, and several other improvements are to be made.

When the present lessees of the park took possession last July, the season was well under way. This year the grounds are to be improved, and the present indications are that the park will be a popular place. The grounds are strictly private and are situated a quarter of a mile above the Four-Mile bridge.

OLESON CASE ENDS WITHOUT A FIGHT

HEIRS TO GET LEGAL SHARES ALIKE.

Case Had Been Taken Into Court, but An Agreement was Reached Between the Children and the Step-Mother—The Property was Worth $20,000.

Sons and daughters of Mrs. Ole Olson No. 1, were the plaintiffs in a suit in Judge J. W. Sale's court, against their stepmother, Mrs. Ole Olson No. 2.

The suit was brought to recover a share claimed of the property valued at $20,000, which their father had left to his second wife. Ole Olson was a highly respected and hard working farmer who resided in this county, near Clinton. Last November he was taken suddenly ill and died.

At the time of his death he was estimated to be worth about $20,000. When the will was opened, it was found, much to the surprise of his children that his entire estate was left to their stepmother. When Mr. Olson died he was a man of eighty years of age and the children by his first wife at once claimed that their father was of feeble mind and that their stepmother had strong influence over him. Fethers, Jeffris, Fildel and Mount were engaged by the children, while Mrs. Olson engaged Attorney Barnes of Delavan.

After the case had been called by Judge Sale, Mrs. Olson notified the plaintiffs that she would consent to their having their share of the estate as the law allowed. The attorneys patched up the affair, and Mrs. Olson and her stepchildren left the court house in a happy frame of mind.

BOUNDARY LINE SUIT SETTLED IN COURT

SUPREME TRIBUNAL UPHOLDS DECISION.

Jog in the Road was Not Made By Mr. Heddles, but Was So Laid Out in the Original Survey—Town of Fulton Trouble Now Straightened Out.

The Supreme court has sustained the decision of the Dane county circuit court in the case of H. S. Pomeroy against Catherine Heddles and others, which was taken before Judge Siebecker at Madison, on a change of venue from this county.

The defendants reside in Edgerton and the trouble grew out of a disagreement about the boundary line of a roadway in the town of Fulton on which the Pomeroy and Heddles property bordered. A jog in the road of several feet into the Pomeroy estate was thought by Pomeroy to be the fault of Heddles whose property he said projected just that much out into the street. Heddles claimed that that was the way the road was laid out and was the result of the original survey. The recent decision of the Supreme court sustains him of his belief.

TRADE IN WOOL KEEPS UP

Elmer Bullard Says the Demand Is Steady These Days.

Elmer Bullard of Evansville, who claims to have purchased more raw wool in the past year than any other man in Wisconsin, was in town today. He says there has been more buying than usual in this section of the state in the past few weeks. The trade is brisk with a steady demand.

POINTER FOR BURGLARS.

A Woman Who Is Afraid of Being Robbed and Goes Loaded.

Appropos of nothing I am reminded of an accident in the management of feminine skirts that revealed to me a secret that may prove a pointer to burglars, says the Atlanta Constitution. Recently a lady called at the house of a friend on business, and as she left and walked down the steps her maid caught a glimpse of her nether limbs, "which," she declares, "were just as knotty as you never did see. I declare, 'fore goodness," she said, relating the experience through hysterical convulsions of giggles, "they was a sight ter see and I said to her, 'come here, mam, an' let me see what is the matter with your legs.'"

Thus summoned the called returned, closed the door mysteriously behind her and whispered to my faithful servant:

"You see, I'm so afraid of burglars and pickpockets that I stuff all my money and diamonds in my pocket."

"An, sure 'nough," continues the maid relating the tale, "it was true, fur I looked down an' I never see the like; great knots of stuff all over her knees and calves. Why, it looked like she must er had her rings in they boxes, they was such big lumps, an' I told her I didn't see how she could well walk."

Here the girl doubled up and shook over the grotesque memory.

"An' I asked her," she said, "how she do about her car fare when she goes to pay for it, and she said she just stopped on a street corner and hauled out a nickel; but law sakes, when I told her about a lady here having her diamonds stolen what you reckon she done? She jerked off her big gold watch with its gold chain an' stuffed that down her stocking, an' I just thought if she kept on puttin' heavy things in 'em the weight would pull them down an' she'd drop 'em all out."

The picture of this burglar haunted lady has remained with me ever since I heard of her. Fancy carrying all these knotty treasures about one's legs. Jewels may be all right for the bare ankles of East India females, but to put them to such grotesque uses seems strange indeed. Fancy, will you, this modern woman in trousers with knots here and there, impeding not only her locomotion, but that of the crowd with which she necessarily comes in contact at the exposition—a sort of feminine barbed-wire fence that no man wants to get stuck on.

NOT A NOODLE.

The Farmer Did Not Care to Stop the Wedding.

I was standing on the corner of Hawk and High streets when a frisky looking old farmer came to me, says a writer in the New York World, and said excitedly:

"Stranger, does a minister of the gospel live in yonder brick house with the green blinds?"

"The Rev. Mr. Sawyer lives there," I replied.

"Thank goodness," he said, with a sigh.

"Sickness in your family?" I asked. "No sickness there, stranger," he replied, "but daughter Libbie run away from hum with a feller this mornin'. Soon's I heard of it I started after 'em an' got sight of 'em jes' outside the city an' kep' sight of 'em till they went into yonder house."

"Why don't you go into the house and stop the wedding?" I asked.

"Stop the weddin'? Me? Say, stranger, do I look like a noodle? Do I look like a gawk that would kick at havin' thirty-eight years of care an' worry lifted off his shoulders in a minute?" he asked sarcastically.

"Not exactly," I replied.

"Guess not, stranger. I jes' run after the guilty pair to keep 'em from changin' their minds. I'll jes' wait here as happy as an angel with a new pair of wings 'till the happy pair come out, then I'll give 'em my blessin' an' hurry hum an' kill the fatted calf. Stop the weddin'? Nixey."

Completely Extinguished.

The passenger in the tweed clothes got up to take a drink and when he got back he found his seat occupied by the man in the $7.88 suit, who had been sitting on the wood box.

"I'd like to have my seat, please," said the tweed man.

"Your seat?" repeated $7.88. "When did you get a reserved seat? Where are you from, anyway?"

"New York," answered the tweed, impressively.

"New York? New York? Huh! I'm from Canton, Ohio."

And the train rolled on with the New York man sitting on the wood box.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Providing for the Future.

Pastor (benevolently)—So, my dear Mr. Boozely, I hear you have signed the pledge? Boozely—Yes; I haven't touched a drop for six months. Pastor—Now, my dear brother, don't you find total abstinence cheaper than intemperance? Boozely—Oh, yes; I've already paid for my coffin. Pastor (astonished)—Your coffin? Boozely—Yes; I felt if I kept my pledge six longer I'd need one.—Washington Times.

A Piece of Parchment.

When unwritten on is no more efficacious than the cadaverous counterfeits of those unfortunate persons whom we are accustomed to call "confirmed invalid." What a misnomer! implying, too, despair, a giving up for lost! As long as the vivifying power of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters can be felt, and that is possible so long as there is no absolute collapse of the faculties, fresh vitality can be infused into wasted, feeble frames; color and flesh can be brought back to wasted, pallid cheeks with this grand sheet anchor of the debilitated and the sickly. It is a tonic of the greatest potency and utmost purity, and a remedy for and preventive of dyspepsia, biliousness, rheumatic nervous and kidney complaints. Appetite and sleep are greatly aided by it; it counteracts the effects of undue fatigue or excitement, and nullifies the often perilous consequences of exposure to inclement weather or damp clothing.

HOW TO KEEP YOUNG.

Avoid Strong Emotions—Temper and Tears Are Fatal to Beauty.

A French authority upon matters of fashion and the toilet says, "To preserve beauty one must never weep, as it encrusts the skin," to which might be added that it fades and dulls the eyes and gives a habitually mournful cast to the countenance. If women would only stop to think before they cry that they will not be merely disfiguring themselves for the moment, which is bad enough, but will be robbing their skin and their eyes of some degree of freshness, which will be lost permanently, there would be fewer tears shed for trifles, perhaps fewer shed for serious matters.

EVENING GOWN.

for, after all, what is more serious than the loss of one's complexion? If a woman wishes to remain young, she must avoid strong emotion of any kind, even the pleasant, but especially painful emotion. Mental suffering is wonderfully quick in tracing wrinkles and producing white hairs and is a relentless foe to youth and good looks. It is the woman who never permits herself to be disturbed by strong feeling of any kind whom age cannot wither, for it is not so much the passage of years that makes one grow old as the emotions and experiences they bring. Equability of temper, indifference of temperament and repose of manner are the great preservatives of beauty. Given these and a reasonable freedom from pecuniary anxieties, there is no reason why a woman should not retain her youthful charms long after she is a grandmother. The cool, statuesque type is the really durable one physically, lasting long after the nervous, hysterical, emotional one has gone to pieces. Therefore repress all emotion, whether of love, hate, fear, avarice, terror, anxiety or ambition, if you would be always young and unwrinkled.

The sketch shows a princess evening gown of lace spangled with silver, which opens in front over a draped corsage of white satin and a tablier of accordion plaited white satin. The square décolletage is barred by a band of green velvet with a knot at the left side, and the belt is of green velvet. A large bow of green velvet, with long ends, is placed at the back. The wrinkled sleeves of lace have slight puffs at the top and frills falling over the hands. Coquilles of lace are arranged over the shoulders. JUDIC CHOLLET.

SPRING FASHIONS.

Plaids, Checks and Fancy Weaves—Inconvenience of Small Sleeves.

Silk shirt waists are among the spring novelties. They are made of glace taffeta in all colors, have a yoke, collar and cuffs and are usually accompanied by a necktie bow of a contrasting color.

A comparatively small amount of plain goods is seen in the spring importations, the preference being given to fancy weaves.

DINNER BODICE.

stamped effects, plaids and checks. A great deal of shepherd's check, both large and small, is in the market, and it promises to be as well liked this year as it was last.

As was predicted, now that large sleeves have gone out of fashion, there is a wail at their disappearance in spite of the contempt and ridicule lavished upon them while they were popular. The slim woman misses the generous breadth of appearance they gave her; the stout one finds that her waist looks longer now that her shoulders are narrower; the home dressmaker, who relied upon well set out sleeves to give style to her amateur creations, has more difficulty in securing a professional appearance to her work now that close sleeves are the rule, and the active woman wants the large sleeves back again because they allowed her to move her arms freely. As for the present sleeves, there is a decided variety from which to choose. Some are all in one piece, slightly bouffant at the top; others tight, with a small puff or drapery at the shoulder; still others are puffed, shirred, tucked or plaited crosswise or lengthwise, as the fancy dictates. Medial cuffs extending in scallops or points over the hand are the rule.

A picture is given which illustrates a full dress dinner bodice. It is of coral liberty silk, forming a blouse in front and gathered at the waist behind. It crosses in fichu style over the bosom, having revers of mordore velvet with rosettes at the top. A triangle fichu of old point follows the décolletage behind, is brought over the shoulders and falls in coquilles on each side in front. The half length sleeves are slightly bouffant and are made of coral and white broche silk, having a lace frill at the edge. The folded belt is of mordore velvet. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Dangers of the Grip.

The greatest danger from La Grippe is of its resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for La Grippe, we have to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventive of that dread disease. It will effect a permanent cure in less time than any other treatment. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale at C. D. Stevens' Pharmacy, Corner Main and Milwaukee streets.

From Cripple Creek.

After the big fire in Cripple Creek, I took a severe cold and tried many remedies without help, the cold only becoming more settled. After using three small bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, both the cough and cold left me, and in this high altitude it takes a meritorious cough remedy to do any good.—G. B. Henderson, editor Daily Advertiser. For sale at C. D. Stevens' Pharmacy, Corner Main and Milwaukee streets.

Rheumatism Quickly Cured.

FOUND THE WRONG MAN.

Mistake of a House Page Which Brought Up Three Bills.

A funny thing happened, involving three of the Illinois members during a recent session of unanimous consent in the house. The difficulty in securing recognition for the attempted passage of any bill cannot be exaggerated, and Mr. Burrell, of Illinois, had realized this fact to the full measure of sorrow while trying to secure action on a little private bill which he had in tow for one of his constituents. He had been to see the speaker a number of times, beseeching him to let the bill come up, and finally Mr. Reed yielded, and told him to be on time next morning with his bill in his hand standing somewhere so that he could catch the speaker's eye.

Mr. Burrell did not neglect the advice to be conspicuously on hand, so he stood in his seat, and at the first available opportunity waved the bill in the air. The speaker had not forgotten his promise, and when a suitable opening came, said: "The gentleman from Illinois is recognized."

A page started frantically up the aisle to get the bill and bring it to the clerk's desk, but, seeing Mr. Connolly standing in his place, holding a bill in his hand, and as he came from the state designated, the page rushed up to him, took the bill, and hurried it to the desk. The speaker did not in the least relish this error, as Mr. Connolly would probably be one of the last men he would favor with a recognition but, making the best of a bad bargain, the measure was allowed to pass.

Mr. Reed then looked over in the direction of Mr. Burrell and again said: "The gentleman from Illinois."

Another page started to follow the direction of the speaker's eye but ran into Mr. Graff, also of Illinois, who had been haunting the first seat in the middle aisle for more than a month waiting to bring a bill up, and this was taken to the desk and read. The speaker looked considerably annoyed, but persisted in the original intention of seeing that Mr. Burrell was given a chance to slip his bill through, and for the third time said:

"The gentleman from Illinois."

This time the page found his way to the proper person, and Mr. Burrell's bill was passed. But several members smiled to themselves as they reflected on the fact that two unexpected bills had received attention on the strength of the recognition promised Mr. Burrell.—Washington Times.

A Public Park Memorial to Lowell.

There is a project for the preservation of a part of the James Russell Lowell estate in Cambridge, as a public memorial park, similar to the Longfellow Memorial park, in the same city. Recently Mrs. R. A. Richards secured a refusal of a large part of the land, containing about 150,000 square feet, until June 15, for $35,000. The necessity for prompt action has also led others to come forward, and a committee is being formed which will organize and direct the work of raising funds. Included in this committee are Miss Alice Longfellow and ex-Gov. William E. Russell; others who are earnestly interested in the project, and whose names will doubtless be in the list, are Mrs. R. H. Dana and Mrs. J. G. Thorp, the two other daughters of Longfellow; Mrs. Louis Agassiz, Mrs. Ole Bill, President Elliot of Harvard, Mrs. William A. Bancroft and Mrs. Pickering. The land is well wooded, as the large grove of great pines, which Lowell loved, and to which he often referred in his writing, stands there. The land is also well situated to form a part of the park system of Cambridge, and, if turned into a park, would complete the chain of parks extending from the Back bay along the Charles river to Fresh pond.—Boston Evening Transcript.

This Didn't Happen in Boston.

He scrambled wildly to the spot where the bulletins were being posted. When he reached the place where he could read the announcement his jaw dropped and his lip curled.

"It's just news from the convention, ain't it?" he remarked.

"Yes," replied the man next to him.

"What did you expect?"

"I thought it was from the ball game."

And he sank back through the crowd and boarded a street car.—Washington Star.

"Who made your bicycle suit?"

"I made it myself."

"Yes, I thought so, but I wanted to be sure. How nice it is!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

YOUR PALATE IS YOUR STOMACH'S CONSCIENCE.

YOUR STOMACH KNOWS WHAT IS GOOD FOR YOU.

Thin people are thin because the food they eat is not absorbed. Reasons, either wrong food, or right food undigested.

Fat, oils and grease will not make any one fat. This is because they are indigestible. Thin people find it hard to digest their food. Fatty foods make it still harder.

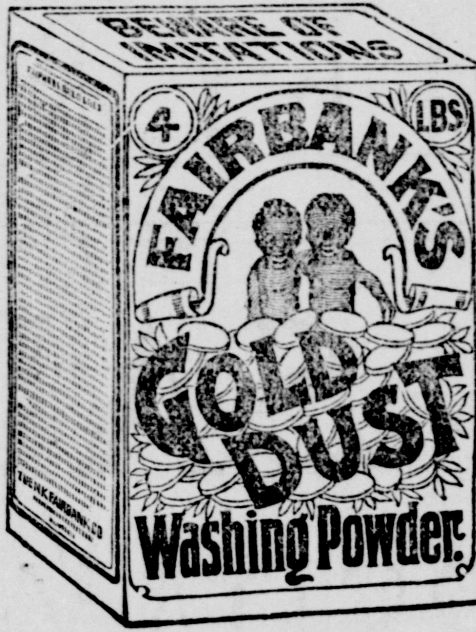

Have you ever noticed that almost without exception, thin, pale, dyspeptic, anemic people have an aversion to fat? This is of itself proof enough that such foods are bad for them.

Let your palate tell you what to eat. Nature makes very few mistakes, and we should listen to what she says.

Thin people may become fatted, and dyspeptics more comfortable by taking the Shaker Digestive Cordial. It agrees with the weakest stomach. It helps the weak stomach digest other food. It is fattening and invigorating in itself, for it contains artificially digested food.

The Mount Lebanon Shakers have made a great many interesting discoveries within the past hundred years, but none more important than this ingenious cure for all diseases which are traceable to faulty digestion. A single ten cent bottle will tell whether it is adapted to your case, and can be had through any druggist.
